The temperance movement is a social movement against the consumption of alcoholic beverages. Participants in the movement typically criticize alcohol intoxication or promote complete abstinence from alcohol (teetotalism), and its leaders emphasize alcohol's negative effects on people's health, personalities and family lives.

Temperance movement - Wikipedia

The temperance movement early in the 20th century targeted alcoholic beverages. The temperance movement underway in this 21st century targets not only alcohol, but meat, milk, eggs, genetically engineered plants, and any food or drink deemed to be unhealthy by uninformed, well-funded activist groups.

One hundred years ago the temperance league described alcohol as a demon and a sin. In our more secular age the sin is not against god but against “ health and safety ” which is one of our modern day religions. Thus, those who constantly rail against alcohol consumption at any level have a moral rather than health agenda.
