The relationship between critical thinking and ethics is important because it determines the right and wrong of a decision based on personal recognition of basic human rights. To become a good critical thinker we must analyze and observe, evaluate, and take a moment to separate our own bias beliefs from the issue at hand.

If the argument is invalid, game over.

The argument is bad and you 're done. And the best way to show that an argument is invalid is by providing a counter-example, a situation in which the premises are true and the conclusion false. If the argument is valid, you need to proceed to the next step and see if it is sound.
