Foreign Investment And The Environment
Foreign direct investment and the environment involves international businesses and their interactions and impact on the natural world. These interactions can be observed through the stringency applied to foreign direct investment policy and the responsiveness of capital or labor incentive for investment inflows. The laws and regulations created by a country that focuses on environmental regimes can directly impact the levels of competition involving foreign direct investment they are exposed to

A. Foreign Investment and the Environment. Foreign investment in developing countries 14 can constitute both a vector of sustainable development, most notably through financial and technology transfers, and a threat to the environment, when its production processes and methods are risky or harmful. In practice, both dimensions are often combined.
