Lucid Dreaming Success - Achieve Lucidity Every Night!
To lucid dream, I recommend being able to remember at least one vivid dream per night. That will boost your self awareness in dreams (making lucidity more likely) and also means you can actually remember your lucid dreams. Which is nice. Here are four detailed tips on how to remember your dreams more frequently.

Levels of Lucidity: The Spectrum of Lucid Dreams
Autosuggestion involves repeatedly suggesting to yourself that you will achieve lucidity during a dream. It is similar to repeating a mantra. In a relaxed state, the aspiring lucid dreamer repeats a statement like, "I will remember to test whether I am dreaming." Autosuggestion is considered a self-hypnosis technique.

Eeden (1860–1932) coined the term 'lucid dream' in an article entitled "A Study of Dreams".. Some have suggested that the term is a misnomer because van Eeden was referring to a phenomenon more specific than a lucid dream. Van Eeden intended the term lucid to denote "having insight", as in the phrase a lucid interval applied to ...

Lucid dream - Wikipedia

What is lucid dreaming? Simply stated, lucid dreaming means you realize within the dream that you are dreaming. You know that you are dreaming. For many people, the moment of realizing that "This is a dream!" can seem like a powerful breakthrough, since they properly realize their actual situation.

Using Vitamin B6 for Lucid Dreaming Success

I'm happy to report success. This dream experience was phenomenal. I've had lucid dreams before but all were 1 or 2 minutes. But last night felt like an hours of a lucid experience. The odd part is, there was no moment of realization just I became lucid and there was no "ah-ha" moment but more a smooth transition.

They can help signify when you are dreaming and will help you become lucid! Types. 1) Dream Induced (DILD) simply means that you became aware that you were dreaming during a dream. Typically, you notice something is strange or recognize a dream sign and become lucid. 2) Wake Induced (WILD) means that you transferred from a waking state directly into a lucid dream. This requires heightened body and mind awareness as you are drifting to sleep, although it can sometimes happen without trying.

Strong intention has a connection to the power of hypnosis, which can be effective in lucid dream induction. Saying to yourself that you will have lucid dreams etc. can be viewed as a form of autosuggestion, or self-hypnosis. Soak in The Material Studying the view behind lucid dreaming and dream yoga strengthens this intent. Other expressions of intent come from reading books, taking courses, and basically spending as much time as you can with this material.
