The nurse needs to motivate the family to accept the child and not give the child up for adoption or find places to leave the child. The nurse also explains the child's need for emotional support during growing years and that it is the right of the child to be with parents. The nurse is assessing a 40-year-old patient who is 12 weeks pregnant.

Women 's rights. But receiving better health care and health knowledge is only one side of the coin. Women must also be able to exercise control over their bodies and live within families that support their rights to a healthy life free from violence.. So we also work with community leaders, women and health workers to understand and address the reasons for the high maternal death rate.
