David Levithan's Every Day is a romance concerning Rhiannon, an average teenage girl, and A, a person who wakes up in a different body every morning. A usually tries to respect their hosts' lives and fulfill their mundane day to day activities; however, they fall in love with Rhiannon at first sight and cannot resist her company.

Every Day Summary | GradeSaver

Every day a different body. Every day a different life. Every day in love with the same girl. Every morning, A wakes in a different person's body, a different person's life. There's never any warning about where it will be or who it will be. A has made peace with that, even established guidelines by which to live: Never get too attached.

Every Day by David Levithan: Summary and reviews

Everyday Use Summary Everyday Use is told from the perspective of Mama, a "big-boned woman with rough, man-working hands". As the story begins, she hesitantly awaits the return of her eldest daughter Dee. Mama stands near her withdrawn and physically scarred younger daughter Maggie.

Everyday Use Summary | GradeSaver

In "Everyday Use," Mama, the story's first person narrator, describes her relationship to her daughter Dee as Dee, an educated young African-American woman, returns to visit her childhood house in the Deep South. The story begins as Mama and Maggie, Dee's sister and Mama's younger daughter, prepare for the visit. Maggie changes her clothes as Mama fantasizes about reconciling with her daughter on a television show hosted by someone like Johnny Carson.
