In immediate, living prose, Krabbé, a novelist as well as a cyclist, takes us with him, inch by inch, as he rides the hundred-and-thirty-seven-kilometre Tour de Mont Aigoual, a course through the mountains that is better known as one of the cruellest stages of the Tour de France.

The Rider: Tim Krabbé: 8601400481127: Amazon.com: Books

The Rider is a play by play from inside the rider's head during the fanciful 1977 Tour de Mont Aigoual. The narrative is bestrewed with flashbacks from previous races and other related episodes in Krabbe's life. The author discusses the competition, the cooperation, the pain, the strategy and the mental head games of cycling.

The Rider by Tim Krabbé - Goodreads

Tim Krabbe is also a chess Grandmaster, and there are many allusions to the similarities between chess and cycle racing strategies and psychology. I believe this story to be unique in its central focus on one view of one event, with many wider references to the world of competitive cycling.

Tim Krabbé - Wikipedia

Tim Krabbé is one of Holland's leading writers. He is also a cycling (and chess) enthusiast. In The Rider he has created a book unique in the ranks of sporting literature, and probably elsewhere. Already acclaimed as a cycling classic, this translation from the original Dutch serves not only to evoke the endeavour and exhaustive struggle of road racing, but also inspires as a study into the workings of the human mind, from the context of a racing cyclist.

Originally published in Holland in 1978, The Rider went on to sell more than 100,000 copies. Brilliantly conceived and written at a break-neck pace, it is a loving, imaginative, and, above all, passionate tribute to the art of bicycle road racing. Tim Krabbé begins this story at the very start of the Tour de Mont Aigoual, ready to race his rivals through the mountains of Central France.

The Rider by Tim Krabbe. Paperback | Barnes & Noble®

The Rider by Tim Krabbe is my most recommended and most gifted book of all time. The Rider earned this distinction because it is a book I feel just as confident recommending to individuals who read 50 books a year as I do to those who haven’t touched a book since their required high school reading. You can easily read it in an afternoon.

Tour de Mont Aigoual from Tim Krabbé's The Rider

THE RIDER describes one 150-kilometre race in just 150 pages. In the course of the narrative, we get to know the forceful, bumbling Lebusque, the aesthete Barthélemy, the young Turk Reilhan and the mysterious 'rider from Cycles Goff'. Krabbé battles with and against each of them in turn, failing on the descents, shining on the climbs, suffering on the (false) flats.
